Aldelo Systems Inc. certifies LetsGet.net Online Ordering for Aldelo POS

Modesto, California, December 10, 2008 - Aldelo Systems Inc., the leading provider of low cost, feature rich and easy-to-use restaurant POS software solutions for the hospitality industry, has teamed up with LetsGet.net to provide customers with a certified online ordering solution. LetsGet.net and Aldelo completed a successful beta program with existing Aldelo customers and will now make the solution available for general release.

“Aldelo Systems Inc. is pleased to partner with LetsGet.net in providing our customers with a feature-rich and affordable POS integrated online ordering solution, “ stated Harry Tu, CEO. “We were also pleased that LetsGet created a reseller program specifically for Aldelo resellers involving them in both the sales and installation cycles. This is an ideal situation - a solution which not only increases profitability for our resellers, but also lets our customers use their familiar Aldelo reseller support while expanding.”

“LetsGet.net is very excited about this opportunity to partner with an industry leader such as Aldelo,” quoted Jordan Kimberg, President of LetsGet.net. “The restaurant industry has proven that POS integrated online ordering is a great way to increase sales and profitability, with minimal impact to restaurant operations. We feel this is a fantastic opportunity for any Aldelo Reseller who is looking for a way to earn both setup income and residual monthly income with their existing customer base.”

LetsGet.net is now accepting Reseller Applications from Aldelo Resellers who wish to provide online ordering services to their customers.
